13 March 2026

Dear AIA Policy Owner,

We are pleased to inform you on the performance of AIA Investment Linked Policy (ILP) Funds in 2025.

The global economy demonstrated remarkable resilience in 2025. Despite the introduction of significant U.S. tariffs on its trading partners, the private sector responded quickly by bringing forward imports in the first half of the year while reorganising supply chains. This agility has set the stage for continued, albeit moderated, global growth in 2026. As of December 2025, both global manufacturing and services sectors remained in expansionary territory. The U.S. economy remained robust, supported by a healthy labour market and steady corporate earnings. This stability, paired with moderating inflation, enabled the U.S. Federal Reserve to implement three interest rate cuts throughout the year. Across the Atlantic, the Eurozone saw inflation normalise, setting the stage for a modest growth recovery in 2026. Conversely, China experienced another challenging year with falling property prices and weaker consumer confidence. However, credit and liquidity conditions improved as policymakers focused on macro stability and quality growth rather than catalysing headline growth.

Both equity and fixed-income markets delivered positive returns in 2025. Despite a sharp, short-lived sell off following Liberation Day, equity markets recovered rapidly to end the year higher. Major markets such as the U.S., Europe and Asia delivered double digit returns, fuelled by a combination of fiscal stimulus and monetary easing. In Asia, growth was bolstered by Taiwan and Korea's dominant semiconductors and memory chips sectors. Domestically, Singapore equities recorded a strong year, driven by solid growth and optimism over the Equity Market Development Programme (EQDP). Similarly in the fixed income market, U.S. 10 year Treasury yield drifted lower, while investment grade corporate spreads remained near five year lows. In Singapore, government bonds outperformed as limited supply and falling domestic rates drove demand for local corporate bond market.

Looking ahead, we maintain a constructively positioned outlook on risk assets over the medium term. The U.S. economy's resilience, paired with an easing interest rate environment should continue to support corporate earnings growth. The combination of monetary easing and fiscal expansion is a positive tailwind. The U.S. is expected to benefit from the One Big Beautiful Bill Act (OBBBA), while Europe's growth will be supported by increased defence spending. There are signs that the equity rally is broadening, with Europe and Asia outperforming U.S. equities in 2025, which would support a more sustainable rally. While U.S. equity valuations are elevated, they remain below historical "bubble" extremes. After three consecutive years of double-digit returns, we believe the market is entering the later stages of this cycle. This phase requires a more measured approach to risk. Potential policy uncertainty under the Trump administration may lead to periods of market volatility, making active management and disciplined risk control essential for navigating the evolving investment landscape.

Since their inception in 2019, the AIA Stewardship Funds have achieved significant scale, collectively reaching nearly S$6 billion across all stewardship strategies and delivering positive absolute returns. In 2025, our capabilities once again earned external recognition, with AIA Investment Management receiving the prestigious Global Stewardship Fund Award from Insurance Asia for the second consecutive year. These milestones reflect the strength of our partnerships, our unwavering commitment to excellence, and the trust our policyholders place in us.

Despite a challenging start to the year, the AIA Elite Adventurous Fund – the largest investment-linked policy (ILP) fund under our flagship AIA Elite Funds – closed 2025 with an impressive 10.4% total return in SGD terms. Policyholders who stayed invested through the April 2025 market drawdown were well rewarded, as AIA Stewardship and its underlying managers skillfully navigated market volatility, including tariff-related disruptions, to deliver positive total returns across all stewardship funds for the year.

In 2025, we further strengthened the AIA Elite Funds through targeted enhancements implemented in phases from September to November 2025.

- Specialised Manager Appointments: We integrated GMO (equities) and M&G (fixed income) to leverage their specific core competencies.
- Strategic Refocus: The BlackRock equity sleeve underwent a strategic shift towards a value approach.

- These adjustments allow each manager to focus on their core areas of expertise, while AIA Investment Management retains the ability to allocate assets dynamically based on prevailing macroeconomic perspectives. As a result, the AIA Elite Funds gain greater flexibility across different market cycles, equipping AIA Investment Management with additional tools to navigate changing market conditions effectively.

Beyond the AIA Elite portfolio changes, we made enhancements to several of our ILP Funds in 2025 to support more consistent long-term outcomes for policyholders.

- AIA Sustainable Multi-Thematic Fund: Enhanced with New Financials and Net Zero 2050 themes, alongside an asset allocation overlay, and transitioned to direct securities for greater implementation efficiency.
- AIA India Opportunities Fund: Appointed Franklin Templeton as the manager of the ILP Fund to capture a broader market spectrum, including small- and mid-cap equities, strengthening flexibility and potential alpha.

We also expanded our ILP shelf in 2025:

- AIA Platinum Wealth Venture version 2.0 ("PWV 2.0"): On 1 April 2025, we strengthened the value proposition of PWV by introducing "PWV 2.0" with enhanced features, including expanded ILP fund access. This provides policyholders access to our dividend-paying funds – AIA Global Adventurous Income Fund ("GAIF") and AIA Global Dynamic Income Fund ("GDIF") giving them the flexibility to receive quarterly dividend payouts or reinvest them.

We are pleased to report that both GAIF and GDIF continued to deliver strong performance in 2025, with annualised dividend yields of approximately 7% and 5% respectively since inception. These achievements reflect AIA Stewardship's disciplined investment approach and our ability to navigating shifting economic landscapes through active allocation adjustments across underlying funds. Investor confidence remains high in our dividend-paying strategies; GAIF recorded net inflows exceeding S$1.2 billion this year, significantly bolstering its assets under management to more than S$1.8 billion as of 31 December 2025. This growth underscores the enduring trust our policyholders place in AIA.

Amid heightened global volatility in 2025, investors increasingly rotated towards safer and more stable markets. Singapore benefited from this environment, supported by its strong fiscal position, sound regulatory framework and government support for capital markets in the form of the Equity Market Development Programme ("EQDP"), positioning it as one of the better performing equity markets in the world in 2025. Against this backdrop, AIA Growth Fund, which provides diversified exposure to Singapore equities and fixed income, delivered strong performance and outperformed peers, achieving net total returns of 19.9% in 2025, with gains supported by contributions from both asset classes. Together, the resilience of the Singapore market and the strong outcome delivered by the AIA Growth Fund reinforce its role as an important component of AIA's ILP offering.

As a leader in the life insurance sector, AIA manages one of the largest investment-linked insurance fund portfolios, with assets under management exceeding S$16.4 billion as of 31 December 2025. We remain steadfast in our commitment to deliver long-term value and provide clear, relevant information you need to navigate the financial landscape with confidence and make well-informed investment decisions.

Thank you for your continued trust in AIA. We look forward to partnering with you to achieve your financial goals.

Yours sincerely,

Wong Sze Keed
Chief Executive Officer

Soft Dollar Commissions

For the period ended 31 December 2025, the Investment Manager and any Affiliated Sub-Investment Manager, if applicable, does receive and has entered into soft-dollar commissions/arrangements with brokers relating to portfolios of the Underlying Fund that invest in equity securities, in respect of which certain goods and services used to support the investment decision making process were received. The soft commission arrangements were entered into on the basis that the execution of transactions on behalf of the Underlying Fund will be consistent with best execution standards and brokerage rates will not be in excess of customary institutional full-service brokerage rates.

Additionally, due to the nature of the investment strategy of certain Portfolios, including where the Investment Manager delegates investment management services to AllianceBernstein Limited, AllianceBernstein (Europe) Limited and CPH Capital Fondsmæglerselskab A/S, all costs associated with soft commission arrangements may be “unbundled,” if required by applicable law, and borne by the Investment Manager or its Affiliated Sub-Investment Manager. The goods and services received include specialist industry, company and consumer research, portfolio and market analysis and computer software used for the delivery of such services. The nature of the goods and services received is such that the benefits provided under the arrangement must be those which assist in the provision of investment services to the Underlying Fund and may contribute to an improvement in the Underlying Fund’s performance.

For the avoidance of doubt, such goods and services do not include travel, accommodations, entertainment, general administrative goods or services, general office equipment or premises, membership fees, employees’ salaries or direct money payments. Disclosure of soft commission arrangements will be made in the Financial Reports of the Underlying Fund.

Notes to the Statements

As at 31 December 2025

These notes form an integral part of and should be read in conjunction with the Statements.

1. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Accounting Convention

The Statements, expressed in Singapore dollars and United States dollars, are prepared in accordance with the historical cost convention, modified by the revaluation of investments at market prices.

The Funds' policyholders are mainly from Singapore with the subscriptions and redemptions of the units denominated in Singapore dollars and United States dollars.

Income and Expenditure Recognition

Dividends are recognised when the right to receive payment is established. Interest income is recognised on a time-proportionate basis using the effective interest method. Fund expense subsidies are recognised under net management fees account. Other income and expenses are recognised on an accruals basis.

Investments at Fair Value

Purchases of investments are recognised on the trade date. Equity securities are valued at the market closing price prevailing at the balance sheet date. Debt securities are valued at the bid price prevailing at the balance sheet date. Investments in Funds are valued at quoted market prices. Changes in fair value of investments are recognised in the Capital and Income Account.

Disposal of Investments

Sales of investments are recognised on the trade date. For the purpose of determining net realised gains or losses on sale of investment, the cost of disposal of investment, determined on the weighted average cost basis, is compared against the settlement amount. Cumulative changes in fair value of investments since acquisition are reversed upon disposal. All gains and losses are taken up in the Capital and Income Account.

Financial Derivatives

Financial derivatives are financial instruments which include forward contracts. Financial derivatives outstanding at the balance sheet date are measured at their respective fair values provided by a financial service provider. The resulting unrealised gains or losses are taken to the Capital and Income Account.

Foreign Currencies

Foreign currency monetary assets and liabilities are translated at exchange rates prevailing at the balance sheet date. Foreign currency transactions are translated at exchange rates on transaction dates. Differences in exchange are included in the Capital and Income Account.

Dividend Distribution

Dividend distribution is recorded on the date when the declaration is made by Fund.

Notes to the Statements

As at 31 December 2025

2. TAXATION

No tax is payable on the gains accruing to the policyholders.

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT TO AIA SINGAPORE PRIVATE LIMITED

Our Opinion

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements of AIA Funds (the list of the funds is set out in Note 3) of AIA Singapore Private Limited (the "Company") for the financial year ended 31 December 2025 are prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with the stated accounting policies as set out in Note 1 to the financial statements of the AIA Funds.

What we have audited

The financial statements of the AIA Funds comprise, for each Fund:

- the statement of assets and liabilities as at 31 December 2025;
- the capital and income account for the financial year then ended; and
- the notes to the financial statements of the AIA Funds, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Singapore Standards on Auditing ("SSAs"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Independence

We are independent of the Company in accordance with the Accounting and Corporate Regulatory Authority Code of Professional Conduct and Ethics for Public Accountants and Accounting Entities ("ACRA Code"), as applicable to audits of financial statements of public interest entities, together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to audits of the financial statements of public interest entities in Singapore. We have also fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ACRA Code.

Emphasis of Matter – Basis of Accounting and Restriction on Distribution and Use

We draw attention to Note 1 to the financial statements which describes the basis of accounting. The financial statements of the AIA Funds are prepared to assist the Company to comply with the requirements of the Monetary Authority Singapore ("MAS") Notice 307 Investment-Linked Policies. As a result, the financial statements of the AIA Funds may not be suitable for another purpose. This report is intended for the sole benefit and use of the Company and is not intended to nor may it be relied upon by any other party, other than the Company. We accept no liability or responsibility to anyone other than the Company for our work, for our report, or for the conclusions we have reached in our report. This report relates solely to the financial statements of the AIA Funds of the Company and does not extend to the financial statements of the Company taken as a whole. Our report is not modified in respect of this matter.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all the sections of the AIA Annual Funds Report 2025 but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of Management and Directors for the Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation of financial statements in accordance with the stated accounting policies set out in Note 1 to the financial statements, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the ability of each AIA Fund to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to terminate the AIA Fund or to cease the AIA Fund's operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the AIA Funds' financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SSAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the ability of each AIA Fund to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause each AIA Fund to cease to continue as a going concern.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.
